Lunch Counter Drive Continues Despite Arrests

Movement Spreads; 1,000 ASC Students Approve Mass Strike

By The Associated Press
Negroes campaigning for equal treatment at Southern lunch counters are being jailed by the dozens, but there is no sign of a letup in the drive.

Authorities arrested 154 demonstrators Friday. All were jailed for a time, then released on bond. The movement spread to two new cities — Miami, Fla., and Houston, Tex.

Eight Negro clergymen in Miami made two attempts to crack the color barrier, in a department store and at a variety store lunch counter. Both failed. Stage Orderly Sitdown

Up to 100 Negroes identified by a spokesman as students of Texas Southern University staged an orderly sitdown in Houston after waitresses refused to serve them at a supermarket lunch counter.

Nearly a thousand wildly cheering Negro students roared approval of a mass strike at Alabama State College in Montgomery where spring quarter registration begins Monday.

The students drowned out speakers time after time during a hymn-singing, hand-clapping rally held in support of nine student leaders expelled for leading student demonstrations in downtown Montgomery.

Bernard Lee, student president from Norfolk, Va., and one of those expelled, appealed to the students not to register Monday. He was given a thunderous ovation when he announced that scholarship funds have been promised for any student expelled.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Atlanta Baptist minister who led the successful Montgomery bus boycott, promised the students full support of his Southern Christian Leadership Conference. He said his organization would provide scholarships for the expelled students.

In South Carolina, 74 persons were arrested while students from two Negro colleges abandoned, at least temporarily, plans for future demonstrations.

Students from Allen University and Benedict College, both church-supported schools in Columbia, said in a formal statement they had accomplished their purpose of drawing attention to what they labeled unfair, inequitable and discriminatory treatment.

Firemen Get Stuck; Rural Dwelling Burns

LISBON — Firemen became stuck in deep snow when answering a rural blaze Friday at 1 p.m. and had to watch a six-room dwelling off Route 154 in Elkrun Township burn to the ground.

Loss was estimated at $5,000. The house was owned by Morris Boyd of Signal who said he had just rented it to a West Virginia steel worker who was residing there alone, trying to get the place dried out before moving in his family.

Neighbors who called the firemen said the occupant went to work at 11 a.m. and they saw smoke coming out of the roof at 1 p.m.

Firemen were unable to get up the badly-drifted lane to the house. They tried but they got stuck. They then tried pulling the fire truck with jeep but couldn't get it called a wrecker who couldn't get as far up the lane as the firemen had, but managed later to pull the fire truck out.

Firemen, in the meantime, laid a hose from civil defense truck on Route 154 to fire truck and then up the hill to house but they were unable to save the structure. Boyd said he was not sure if the house was covered by insurance.

Cold to Linger Several Days

12 Deaths Caused By Ohio Weather

By The Associated Press
Near zero temperatures greeted Ohioans as they arose this morning, just one more item well calculated to make spring more enjoyable once it arrives (in about three weeks).

The sub-freezing temperatures are forecast to stay about five days.

The heavy, slippery snow which blanketed the state Thursday and Friday had, for the time being, ceased. Snow depths ranged up to 14 inches but had drifted to depths of seven feet in Northeastern Ohio.

Ohio's snows, however, have already done their damage. At least 12 persons have been counted as fatal victims of the cold, fluffy stuff. Most of the victims were stricken from over-exertion while shoveling the snow.

The latter victims include Eugene Stevens, 49, of Struthers; Joseph All, 69, and Arthur C. McCracken, 69, both of oungstown; Michael Romano, 65, of Cleveland; Andrew Pollack, 70, of Lakewood; Albert L. Gressel, 77, of Hamilton; Mrs. Lucy Hunt, 64, of Oxford; William Gullett, 79, of Lorain; and Paul G. Yontz, 51, of near Steubenville.

Nester Arnio, 76, was crushed when his tractor upset on an icy barn ramp near Williamsfield, Ashtabula County.

Frank Plotowski, 68, of Cleveland, collapsed while trying to push his car out of the snow.

Bernard Simms, 44, of near Marietta, had been missing since Wednesday night. His body was found Friday in his car, submerged in the Little Muskingum River. Sheriff Carl Rose believes Simms skidded into the river from a county road while on his way home from work.

Adding another somber note to the picture is Natural Resources Director Herbert Eagon. He said the heavy snows have primed Ohio for sudden flooding should spring rains arrive in force.

Cleveland reported 14 inches of snow on the ground, Akron 13, and Youngstown 9. Other depths ranged from 4 inches at Cincinnati to 3 at Columbus and Dayton, 7 at Zanesville and 8 at Findlay. Many Ohio schools closed Friday, giving pupils a nice long weekend to enjoy the snow.

Ike May Delay Departure for Washington

President May Seek Another Day of Rest; Cancels Golf Plans

RAMEY AIR FORCE BASE, Puerto Rico (AP) — President Eisenhower, husky voiced and weary, suddenly canceled plans for another round of golf today. An aide said the President would take it easy at this U.S. Strategic Air Command base but there was no anxiety among the presidential party over his health.

Eisenhower may delay his departure for Washington until Monday to gain more rest, the aide said. He had intended to fly back Sunday.

The President's four grandchildren arrived here by plane Friday night from Washington with their mother. Their father, Army Maj. John Eisenhower, accompanied the President on his South American tour and is already here.

Played Golf Friday
The President played 18 holes of golf under a hot sun Friday over the Dorado Beach Club, 60 miles from here, after making a 1,500-word luncheon address on his just-concluded tour.

During his talk to the Caribbean of the American Assembly, a nonpartisan study group, Eisenhower's voice was husky and grew progressively worse. At one point he remarked:

"If I have to apologize for my voice, I could do so by saying I left most of it in South America." Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters "all it is is hoarseness, probably from all the talking."

Hagerty said the huskiness became noticeable Wednesday in Montevideo, Uruguay, the last stop on the tour. He emphasized the President's chronic bronchitis was not involved.

In Montevideo, Eisenhower also received an eye-watering whiff of tear gas fumes when Uruguayan security forces used the gas against anti-American student demonstrators.

There was no indication, however, that the fumes contributed to his throat irritation. Others in his party who were exposed to the gas suffered no ill after effects.

The President's golf game pointed up his weariness. He shot a 25-over-par 97. He usually scores in the middle to high 80s for 18 holes.

Dorado club pro Russell (Rusty) Gilbert, who played with him, commented after the game: "He (the President) is tired and just wore out."

On arrival here Thursday from South America, Eisenhower remarked with a smile that he was "bushed." But he got a good night's sleep and appeared refreshed when he came to Dorado.

2 Are Cited After Mishaps On Icy Roads

Four accidents on the area's drifted and slippery highways Friday resulted in the arrest of two drivers for failing to stop within an assured clear distance. No injuries were reported.

Willard Stewart of Austintown was cited after the collision of his tractor-trailer with two vehicles at 8:15 p. m. on Rt. 45.

A car operated by Franklin Spletzer, 32, of Canfield had just been pulled out of a ditch by a tow truck operated by Robert Shook, 36, of RD 2, Salem, when Stewart failed to get his tractor-trailer stopped and plowed into the other two vehicles.

Jack Bishop, 42, of Youngstown was cited when he struck the rear of a car operated by John Chase, 44, of Morgantown, W. Va., on Rt. 7, four miles south of Rogers 12:45 p.m. The State Patrol said Chase had slowed down after a passing car splashed slush on his windshield.

Two East Palestine drivers, Betty Lou Gribben, 21, of Clark St., and Lawrence Gorbey of RD 1, slid together in a snow drift on Rt. 170, south of East Palestine at 3 p.m. Considerable damage was caused to both cars.

At 1 p.m. on Rt. 62, five miles east of the Stark County line, a car operated by Italo Citarella, 55, of Youngstown and a tractor-trailer driven by William Armbruster, Jr., 31, of alliance, collided, causing slight damage to both vehicles.

Finch Case Goes To Jury

Long Wait for Verdict Expected

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two million words of testimony and argument were only a provocative prelude to the critical question the Finch trial jury is trying to day to answer in two or three syllables: guilty or not guilty.

The jury got the case Friday and there was no telling when it might be back with a verdict. The general feeling was it would be a matter of days.

After deliberating today, the jurors get Sunday off. "Guilty" or "not guilty" actually will appear in the verdict four times, since Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his pretty mistress, Carole Tregoff, are charged on two counts each and will be dealt with separately. They are accused of murder and conspiracy to commit murder in the death last July 18 of the doctor's socialite wife, Barbara Jean. She was shot through the back outside the elegant Finch home in suburban West Covina.

The jurors—seven women and five men—have the alternatives on count 1 of finding the defendants guilty of first-degree murder, guilty of second-degree murder, or innocent of murder. On count 2 the options are guilty or innocent of conspiracy.

But on either or both counts one party might be found innocent and the other guilty. The number of conceivable combinations—taking into account that the jury might be "hung" on one or more counts—was unofficially calculated by newsmen at 161.

Finch, 42, and his 23-year-old paramour testified they drove from Las Vegas the night of July 18 to talk to Mrs. Finch about divorce plans.

Finch said he and his wife got into a struggle over a gun which she drew from her car. It went off accidentally, Finch said, killing her.

The state contended Finch and Miss Tregoff killed the 36-year-old socialite so they wouldn't have to split community property with her when she got the divorce she had on file.

The two-parcel property lies south and across the Summit Street Road from the present campus. It is being purchased from Dr. M. Wilson, a Ravenna realtor.

Expansion of the campus to 475 acres comes during Kent's semi-centennial celebration. There are 10,622 students enrolled at the school, 7,609 of whom are full-time.

Spent 6 Days Aboard Yacht

FCC Head Admits Being Guest of TV Executive

WASHINGTON (AP) — FCC Chairman John C. Doerfer, whose job is to regulate the broadcast industry, has acknowledged he spent six nights aboard the yacht of the owner of a string of radio and TV stations.

He also "reluctantly" flew south for a Florida vacation in the private plane of the TV magnate, George B. Storer.

"My conscience is perfectly clear," Doerfer insisted Friday in an emotional defense of his actions before a House subcommittee.

He said he checked first and found that there were no actions pending before the Federal Communications Commission in connection with the 19 Storer broadcasting stations.

As to the plane ride, Doerfer said he had bought tickets for himself and his wife on a commercial airline, and agreed to fly with Storer only if his host would "take my tickets."

Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.) asked in surprise if he had actually given Storer the tickets. Doerfer said no, that he had gotten the $213.40 ticket money refunded when he returned to Washington and intended to give it to Storer.

He said Storer was an old friend, but later conceded he had not met him until he joined the FCC seven years ago by appointment from President Eisenhower.

Doerfer, fidgeting with his glasses, made the point that he had spent time aboard Storer's yacht only while it was tied up at a dock, or on brief trips on inland waterways, "not on the high seas."

Moss bore down on Doerfer's statements to newsmen earlier this week, in which he had denied spending nights on the yacht.

Doerfer said this was a misunderstanding, that what the reporters had asked him was whether he had "taken a luxurious cruise in Southern waters for seven nights." He said he told them that was "absolutely not correct."

After questioning Doerfer, the subcommittee recessed until March 15. It will begin hearing legislative proposals at that time.

More Than 40 Killed as Blasts Destroy Vessel

Freighter Loaded With Munitions; Damages In Millions

HAVANA (AP)—The semi-official newspaper Revolucion charged today the United States was directly responsible for Friday's French munitions ship disaster in Havana harbor. Unofficial estimates said from 40 to 100 persons perished in the blast.

The government itself hinted sabotage caused the devastating explosions. But independent reports said an unloading accident might have caused the explosions that spread ruin and death along the waterfront.

There were no official estimates of the death toll. Newspapers reported from 41 to 50 dead and a TV station suggested 75 to 100.

Revolucion, which often speaks for Prime Minister Fidel Castro, headlined its account of the fiery destruction of the Belgian arms cargo "sabotage."

"The United States had pledged that these arms should not reach Cuba," the newspaper asserted, without amplification.

After a midnight emergency Cabinet session, President Osvaldo Dorticos told a nationwide TV audience that Friday's explosions aboard the freighter La Coubre "had all the characteristics of a barbarous and criminal attack on the people of Cuba."

Saboteurs Are Blamed
Pro-government sources came right out and called the explosions the work of saboteurs.

But as indignation mounted, the independent newspaper Informacion said the collapse of a loading net filled with explosives, as well as an act of sabotage, figured as a possible cause.

The usually reliable informacion set the casualty totals at 44 dead, 238 injured and 13 missing. The conservative Diario de la Marina put the total dead at more than 50.

Another six persons were reported injured in the dock disaster.

Wheat Rebel Writes Song to Aid Fight Against Penalties

One of Ohio's "Wheat Rebels," Frank J. Saffell of nearby North Georgetown, has published a song to further his fight over $1,000 in federal penalties assessed against him for overplanting his 1954 wheat crop.

He calls it "Song of the Independent Farmers" and said he wrote it "in desperation to try to help my country and agriculture." He said he has sent copies to the president, vice president, U.S. Supreme Court members and all congressmen.

A sample of the copyrighted verse:

"They took doc's car and Simpson's money,
sold Yankus out, which was not funny.

Stangland's tractors have been returned,
the rest of us are yet to be burned.

And our little wheat made all this trouble.
The Justice Department is seeing double."

References are to Dr. P. Scott Whiteleather of Minerva, who gave up growing wheat last year after a federal marshal seized his car to satisfy a penalty judgment; Clifford Simpson of Mount Vernon, vice president of the Independent Farmers of Ohio, who Whiteleather headed; Stanley Yankus, Michigan farmer who moved his family to Australia in protest of the wheat program; and Ethan Stangland, an Indiana protester whose tractors were seized by the government.

PLUMBERS APPROVED

Two applications for plumbing licenses were accepted this week by the Sale Plumbing Board.

Applying for a master's license was Michael Schneider and for a journeyman's license, Donald Cunin. The board also renewed the licenses of 25 other journeymen and 15 masters.

It was noted that all plumbing in the city must be done by a licensed plumber and under the supervision of a master plumber.

The board indicated that these rules were enacted to assure proper plumbing and to safeguard the city's water supply.

It is pointed out by the health board that after any plumbing is done in a local home, the health department should be called to make an inspection of the work.

Confident Living

By Dr. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Faith In God Gives You Real Courage

Many years ago, a man was afflicted with a bad back. Every time he lay on it, he felt pain. He was troubled, too, by an obstruction in his nose which would close when he lay on his back. Yet he spent many months on his back and produced on the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel in Rome some of the world's great paintings. His name, of course, was Michelangelo. Another man, although his birthplace was a British castle, was born with a palate so defective that he lisped. Yet his oratory moved mankind during some of the great crises of history. His name was Winston Churchill.

A third became stone deaf as a young man. But he wanted to write music and he did so, although he never heard his own most glorious symphonies. "I have compensated mentally for my defects of hearing," he said. "I take fate by the throat. I will hear in heaven." His name was Ludwig von Beethoven.

A YOUNGSTER'S LEGS were badly burned and his family was told he would never walk again. He grew up to be an Olympic track champion. His name is Glenn Cunningham.

This year you can see and hear a great radio and television favorite continue to delight vast audiences. A year ago he was reported critically ill of cancer. His name is Arthur Godfrey.

You can, I know, continue this list of heroic human beings. The pages of history are studded with the names of people for whom difficulties became an incentive, a stimulus that provided the courage not only to live but to live greater lives than more fortunate people around them.

Jim TenEyck, who used to be the crew coach at Syracuse, once told me that he had difficulty in finding men for his crews equal to the men he used to have. "Since their mothers started taking them to school in automobiles," he said, "they haven't got legs to row with."

BUT LIFE TAKES MORE than strength in your legs. It requires men of strong minds and souls. And it is hardship and difficulty that shape great men. So the hard, tough problems we face in our lives are really all to the good. It is through them that we become strong and develop the courage to live our lives to the fullest.

Do you remember the passages in the Bible about the death of Moses, that great leader, and how the Lord commissioned Joshua to take his place in leading the Children of Israel to the Promised Land? Joshua must have had his fears, but he overcame them through faith. The Lord spoke to Joshua in words that are among the greatest any of us have ever heard: "Be strong and of good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest."

COMMIT THOSE WORDS to memory. Make them a part of yourself. When you get that faith deep down in your system, whatever your troubles may be, you have really got hold of something, the courage to live.

What do you have to face? You don't know. Your future, like that of all us, is veiled in uncertainty. But if you are old enough to be reading this, you have faced at least some of the problems of your life already. God has brought you this far and surely He will lead you on. "The Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest."

You needn't be afraid. Put your faith in the good Lord and really trust Him. Rest your whole weight on your faith. Live with God as your friend, guide, companion. Really do this and you will have the courage to live.

CHECK UP

It's a good idea to have a check up every so often. And the idea ought to be extended to our spiritual as well as our physical health.

For instance, how much are we thinking about the truths our churches teach us? Do we understand God . . . His love for men . . . the sacrifice of Christ for our sins . . . the way of Christian living?

And how much are we doing for God and our own souls? Are we worshipping every Sunday . . . rearing our children in the Faith . . . serving the Church and fellowmen according to our talents and physical strength?

And how much are we giving for God to use? Do we promise Him a fair proportion of our income . . . do we set it aside regularly as a sum that belongs to God and to those who need our help . . . do we have the courage and faith to strengthen our Church by more generous support?

Copyright 1960, Krister Adv. Service, Strasburg, Va.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Uncle Sam Without a Beard

The best known American face on earth today is the pleasant, high-forehead countenance of Dwight D. Eisenhower featuring the famous "like grin."

It is good to know the bearer is coming home after his South American tour. This one wasn't as easy to follow or as exciting to think about as pre-Christmas tour of Europe and Asia. There were times when it sounded more dangerous.

But the over-all impression of President Eisenhower on the countries he visited and their impression on him and his traveling companions probably has been the same.

The United States respects their rights and aspirations.

It wants to help them help themselves, in the manifestation of the kind of civilization it is trying to be.

It has no designs on any other nation's territory or rights.

It believes that in any fair comparison between what is being offered to countries needing help by the United States and the Soviet Union, the United States will come out ahead, because it is trying to save human freedom and the Soviet Union is trying to curb human freedom, consistent with its practice of authoritarian government.

It does not matter that Russian authoritarianism is practiced in the name of the proletariat. The fact is that wage earners in Russia have nothing whatever to say about government policy anyway, whereas in the United States there are no distinctions between economic classes. That is the essence of American freedom. Everybody can have his say.

That is what the United States offers to its allies.

IN THE COURSE of telling them how it feels, it is learning a great deal about their feelings.

It knows that the ordinary run of people abroad do not fear American influence. They have no reason to fear it. It has not been used to hurt them. They like the United States.

It knows, too, however, that in every country there are agitators and people susceptible to agitation who can be stirred up against it and that Communist agents are always available to do the stirring.

But what it chiefly knows that it never knew so clearly before is that among the hordes of human beings whose good will is being sought the heaviest handicaps are ignorance and despair.

It is not what people feel one way or another that is going to matter in the next few generations. It is, rather, that millions of people have no feeling one way or another. They are too ill fed, too poor, too miserable and too ignorant to be appealed to, except by mob agitation.

THEY HAVE had a chance, many of them, to see the face of Uncle Sam without a beard — the cheerful countenance of Dwight Eisenhower, chief executive of the United States.

They have had a chance, many of them, to see the face of Lenin-Stalin out of Marx-Engels without beards and whiskers.

They have seen Uncle Sam at his best, and certainly Nikita Khrushchev is the most attractive of the Russian Communists to date.

Behind each man is a country and a way of thought that confirm or deny the countenance. We think the United States confirms and the Soviet Union denies the right of their symbolic travelers to smile away from home.

Chicago Locates a Cleanup Man

Not many universities have criminology departments, but those that do will be keeping an eye on the men who head them, following an odd turn of events in Chicago.

Orlando W. Wilson, dean of the criminology department of University of California, was asked to be chairman of a panel to pick a new chief for Chicago after its police department had been shattered by collusion between some of its members and the thieves and burglars they were supposed to keep under control.

When the panel got down to work it turned to its chairman and told him he was the only choice they could make after interviewing 53 applicants. Thereupon, with the promise of Chicago's Mayor Richard J. Daley that politics would be kept out of the police department and he would be given a free hand in rehabilitating police protection, Mr. Wilson accepted the job.

He has been more than an educator in his specialty. He had been chief of police in Berkeley, Calif., and Wichita, Kan., before his teaching career began in 1939.

During World War II, he directed public safety and de-Nazification in the United States zone in Germany. He helped to reorganize 13 police departments as a consultant.

His case carries special significance. Police work in the United States has been carried on traditionally by police careerists, never noted for their possession of systematic education in criminology. The Federal Bureau of Investigation, more than anything else, has suggested a rising need for police experts with special training.

There will not be enough Orlando Wilsons to go around. Yet the era of the academically trained police chief seems to be at hand. Chicago, which had encountered every breakdown of police morale in the book, never thought it would wake up one day to find its policemen had been working hand in glove with burglars and thieves. Even Al Capone wouldn't have tried to carry corruption that far.

City Hall Ground

City Council is considering acquisition of the Knights of Pythias property adjacent to City Hall to provide for expansion, if and when needed.

The asking price is $15,000 and Council has provided for half the payment in its current appropriation; the balance to be paid next year, if funds are sufficient.

Although city finances are tighter than they have been for many years, Council should not be blamed for wanting to secure the neighboring property because it was not for sale when the City Hall site was acquired 16 years ago. It may not be obtainable later. The additional ground could be used for parking, even if the municipal building never expands.

Once Over

Harry Truman says politicians and former officeholders should be hired as school and college teachers. But couldn't this boomerang to a point where a teacher might ask Junior: "How much is nine times seven?" and get the answer "no comment?"

Politicians rarely change routines and we foresee following:

Teacher: Good morning.

Pupil: Is that a commitment or are you just speaking off the cuff? ou said good morning yesterday and it was a bad day.

Teacher: You are taking yesterday's comment out of context. Now for a few questions. What was the date of the Battle of Austerlitz?

Pupil (now absorbing political techniques): I am not prepared at this time to make a positive statement on that.

Teacher: Couldn't you give me an approximate date?

Pupil: Not without violating a confidence. Anyhow I think my position on the battle is fairly well known.

Teacher: I will accept that answer because I need votes. In this general review my next question is in what war did the first Battle of Bull Run occur. Answer yes or no.

Pupil: Do you mean to tell me you don't know?

Teacher: I know but don't quote me. Just say it comes from a reliable source.

Pupil: I insist upon the right to quote you.

Politician: Let's not create dissension. The need is for harmony.

Pupil: May I read your Bull Run views as expressed in a speech some years ago. It will only take an hour.

Teacher: NO FILIBUSTERING!

Girl Scout Week

You're apt to see many girls in scout uniforms next week. The occasion is the national observance of Girl Scout Week.

Salem is fortunate to have a well-organized Girl Scout program, with a membership of 850 girls and 355 adult leaders, representing 24 Brownie troops, 22 Intermediate and seven senior troops.

The growth in membership and activities has mounted steadily through the years, with the interest of the adult volunteers playing a vital role in this progress. In the past five years there has been an increase of 283 scouts and 81 adults.

We congratulate the Girl Scouts. Through community service and by learning necessary skills they are well on the road to good citizenship.

Quotation for Today . . .

Battle In Wisconsin

By RAYMOND MOLEY

A political writer whose early experience was on the sea has called Wisconsin a "veritable Charybois." The allusion is to the rock which sucked in sea water along with whatever mariners happened to be near and then exhaled foamy water and the wrecks of ships and men.

Into that danger in 16 years three candidates have gone, have been swallowed up and spewed forth with shattered dreams — Wilkie in 1944, Dewey and MacArthur in 1948. Dewey alone recovered, only by prodigious efforts in Oregon a few weeks later.

Years before that, in 1932, a much more astute campaigner, Franklin D. Roosevelt, who had received the nomination three months earlier, found Milwaukee on his itinerary.

After several attempts on his campaign train to put together proposals suited to Wisconsin's economy, wise advisers prevailed upon him to say nothing about dairy farming or inland waterways and to praise the University of Wisconsin.

sin, freedom of speech, and the La. Follettes.

Wisconsin loved that. But F.D.R. was a smarter politician than any of the present Democratic contenders.

SEN. KENNEDY seems to be quite familiar with history, especially that of the departed great whom he lauded in his "Profiles In Courage." Perhaps he did not know when he entered the Wisconsin primary that there are ways other than death to terminate a political career.

If he did, his enthusiastic reception by audiences elsewhere must have blinded him to the perils involved in entering Wisconsin. In any event, he is now having an inferno of an experience.

Sen. Humphrey and Kennedy are stumping the state from side to side and end to end. When on occasion they are called to Washington to vote on something or other, their troupers carry on for them.

A competent reporter who has spent considerable time in this Wisconsin battle royal, Harry Homewood, tells me that there are three elements which may determine the result.

It is first, Homewood says, a battle of women. There is Mrs. Kennedy, who is beautiful, charming, educated, and very chic.

The latter attribute has very doubtful value in rural Wisconsin towns. There are three of the always loyal Kennedy sisters, with plenty of charm of their own. It is an embarrassment of charm.

MRS. HUMPHREY, with a sure instinct for Wisconsin and Minnesota ways, tours by her lonesome. There are times when one woman is better than four, especially when she knows her way around.

It is inevitably and regrettably a battle in which religious feelings cannot be discounted. In their private computations, politicians lay aside their public protestations that religion must be kept out of politics.

They are anxiously adding up estimates of Catholic versus Lutheran voting potentials. In this, the Humphrey country to the north and west balances or outweighs the southeast.

Most important is the personality of Humphrey the evangelist. Until two weeks ago, the smooth, earnest Kennedy appeal was catching on.

But then there came Hubert the shouter, Hubert the master of every forensic trick. He has the first word, the last word, and thousands in between.

Wisconsin people were accustomed to that in the years of the elder LaFollette, who, according to his foremost disciple, Wayne Morse, "could hold congregations of farmers until the cattle were bellowing for their supper."

It is evangelism at its most frenzied pitch. Humphrey, the apostle of the poor and the heavy-laden. In the midst of a speech from the courthouse steps there are loud "amens" and "hosannas" from the hearers.

This is whipping up an opposition to the softer approach of Kennedy. He is no longer looking for a smashing victory. A bare majority will be welcome to him. But such a blow might well be fatal to his aspirations.

Open Season In Politics Launched

An inevitable six-month shooting match between President Eisenhower and four senatorial aspirants for the Democratic presidential nomination—Kennedy, Johnson, Humphrey and Symington—had a double send-off last week.

First, Eisenhower disapproved a waterway pollution relief act, his first veto of the 1960 session.

Second, the Democratic-controlled House Ways and Means Committee did a remarkable turn-about by approving, 18 to 7, a bill acceding indirectly but effectively to the President's demand for removal of the 4 1/2 per cent interest ceiling on long-term government bonds.

As to the pollution issue, the House took the Democratic senators off the hook by sustaining the President's veto. But an almost as certain House passage of the Ways and Means Committee's interest rate formula means one of the hottest Senate fights of the session, with members of the above-named Democratic presidential foursome tearing at each other's throats.

THE PREVAILING GUESS is that since Speaker Sam Rayburn engineered the House committee action his Texas colleague, Lyndon Johnson, will stand for Senate concurrence.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, with his hopes resting mainly on backing from farm and mining regions, always favorable to price inflation, is likely to oppose any rise in the statutory interest rate.

Where Sens. John Kennedy of Massachusetts and Stuart Symington of Missouri will line up on this issue so far is undisclosed.

The new wrinkle in the House committee plan is allowance of the Treasury to raise up to $5,800,000 a year by bonds with return higher than the existing 4 1/2 per cent ceiling "upon determination by the president that the national interest so requires."

This provision, of itself, is almost equivalent to removal of the ceiling but in addition to it the House bill provides:

1. That the Treasury may engage in unlimited advance refunding of outstanding bonds by offering 6 1/4 per cent bonds at a discount—meaning higher interest in fact.

2. Repeal outright of the 4 1/2 per cent ceiling as applied to savings bonds "upon a finding by the president that this is in the national interest."

Savings bonds presently are paying 3 1/2 per cent, with more of them being cashed in than bought. Almost certainly President Eisenhower will raise existing interest on savings bonds if he is permitted coincidentally to increase rates on longer term securities.

THE SITUATION in the Senate Finance Committee on this issue is touch and go. At least two Democratic members, Harry F. Byrd of Virginia and J. Allen Frear of Delaware, certainly will stand with six Republicans in favor of wiping out the bond-interest limitation. But as against those eight votes, nine Democrats—Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, Russell B. Long of Louisiana, George A. Smathers of Florida, Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, Paul H. Douglas of Illinois, Albert Gore of Tennessee, Herman Talmadge of Georgia, Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota and R. Vance Hartke of Indiana either are outright currency inflationists or on the fence.

The waterpollution veto is significant because it is clearly of the same piece as most of President Eisenhower's disapprovals heretofore, involving further spreading of federal expenditures into fields previously cared for by states or cities.

As affecting next November's election, the vital point of this veto is that it sets the pattern for presidential resistance to the whole range of big spending measures just as has happened ever since the Democrats retained control of Congress in 1955.

All told up to now, Mr. Eisenhower has vetoed 141 bills, with only one of them, a watered-down river and harbor appropriation being subsequently passed.

Vested Interest

By TRUMAN TWILL

Starting an argument with me about clothes is harder than starting a car with the temperature at 10 below. But one way is to tee off on the vest, that once indispensable part of a three-piece suit that men sacrificed to World War II.

The sacrifice was juiced up by a lot of bland propaganda to make it appear that, shucks, men didn't need vests anyway, and it was a small thing to do to win a war.

It was made to appear that anyone who squawked because one third of his suit had been filched with no drop in price was as punk a sport as fellow who beefed because government had taken the cuffs off his pants.

A man had no choice while the war was going on. If he lifted his voice in a squawk he was reminded that a fighting man not only was minus vest and pants cuffs but ice cream a soft bed and might be minus life, itself.

Well, cuffs were put back on pants.

Lucky Strike green could have come back from war, though it never did.

Butter came back to those who could afford it.

Automobiles came back and electrical appliances. But the vest disappeared. Inquiries were dodged with evasive answers. A customer could have a vest if he insisted but no rational customer would insist.

As it happened, I depended on vests for my way of life.

In the lower right-hand pocket I kept loose change and buttons.

In the top right-hand pocket I kept pencils and pens.

In the lower left-hand pocket I kept toothpicks, nails, nail clippers and Life Savers.

In the upper left-hand pocket I kept a comb, a nail file and memos to myself.

The vest concealed the suspenders I wore to keep my pants up and also held the suspenders in place.

Many office workers do not like to wear suspenders because they look hickish and slip off the shoulders unless held in place by a vest when the coat has been removed.

In cold weather, a vest added warmth. In warm weather, it could be taken off. It was pushed to the wall by new trends in clothing, such as slacks and sports coats and lightweight fabrics, but it had a following.

And one more thing, to show clothing people that a customer cannot be sweet-talked out of his recollections.

When they took away vests, they said the double-breasted suit made them superfluous. When a man was buttoned up in one of those straitjackets he did not need a vest, because only chronic slops unbuttoned those wraparound coats.

But the double-breasted suit went the way of all fashions. Came the flop opened single-breasted and what did we have? Pot-bellied men in mussed shirts with belts at half mast and the top of their pants rolled over from circles of inner flab pushing outward—that's what we had.

We had neckties flopping free, with the ends mismatched. We had pencils and pens in shirt pockets and all that other gooney stored goodness knows where.

Anyone wanting to get me started can do it with one crack against vests—the missing third of the three-piece suits men used to buy.

Lauds Educational Move

As a businessman, taxpayer, and interested citizen of Salem I have since 1932 heard many comments concerning the use and misuse of general effectiveness of our public officials.

The relative merits of our school system also seems to be a matter of concern and discussion to a great many Salem residents. A public service institution, especially a local school system, is constantly under the scrutinizing eye of the people. The diversity of services which a conscientiously operated and "community-need-oriented" school system provides must, of necessity, be as comprehensive as the community which it serves.

I feel that the present school administration is doing an admirable job by branching out and providing specialized training to a specific group of the community's adults. The recently completed waitress training program held at the high school under auspices of the Distributive Education department and the city health department was the most productive effort toward positive sanitation and training in customer handling techniques that I have seen accomplished by public officials here in 16 years.

The use of the high school's cafeteria and faculty dining room facilities as a meeting place for the class was another step in the right direction toward putting our improved educational facilities to good use. The excellent condition of the building indicated that our plan for maintenance is as fine as the building in which it exists.

A sincere thank you to the Board of Education for furthering Salem through education.

CUTTING HIS COSTS

PENN STATE STUDENT Robert Thompson has worked out a way to shave the cost of living—he gives himself haircuts with a razor. He carefully shaves his head every few weeks at his home in Havertown, Pa. A mechanical engineering student, he insists that his wife and co-ed classmates find Yul Brynner haircuts attractive. Now 20, he figures he will save about $2,000 in haircuts by the time he reaches 65. He saves $46 a year by skipping fortnightly visits to the barber shop, where price for a haircut is $1.75. Here's how he does it.

A look convinces Thompson it's time for a haircut.

He starts out by skimming off hair with his clippers.

Next come a lathering and a close-to-the-skin shave.

His wife, Lois, and parakeet like the bald results.

Columbiana Fire Department Scheduled Meeting for Monday

COLUMBIANA — Action on adding two new members is among the items of business scheduled to face members of the Columbiana Fire Department at their meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in town hall. Chief R. Don Hisey said he hopes to restore the department to its normal strength of 25 men.

Atty. Lawrence W. Stacey, chairman for the Junior Chamber of Commerce heart fund campaign, reports a total of $1,157 raised during the drive. Canvassers accumulated $676 in the house-to-house solicitation last week end, he reported, and letters mailed at the start of the month-long effort yielded another $549. Expenses of $68 from the total left the final $1,157 figure.

Stacey commended 30 volunteers from the junior and senior classes at Columbiana High School who helped in the residential canvass.

MRS. DORA RITCHIE was inducted as a new member at the meeting earlier this week of the Women's Auxiliary of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. Mrs. Alice Naughton was awarded the attendance prize. Next meeting of the unit will be March 15.

The 40th anniversary of Columbiana Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will be observed at the unit's regular meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Members of the Leetonia chapter mother unit of the local organization, have been invited to attend the anniversary celebration.

Capt. R. A. Greenberg, who spent the last 13 months in Korean duty, has rejoined his wife and children here. The family expects to leave soon for his new assignment at Fort Lewis, Wash.

12 Children, Mother Die In 4 Fires

By The Associated Press

Twelve children and a mother died in fires Friday in four communities from Maryland to Missouri.

At Evansville, Ind., an explosion and blaze in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ditsch took the lives of six of their seven youngsters. Dead were Michael, 9, Gregory, 8, Dennis, 5, Timothy, 4, Tommy, 3, and Roxanne, 20 months.

At Easton, Md., four children died of suffocation in a fire which broke out after strong winds toppled the chimney of their two-story frame home.

The victims, all Negroes, were Dorothea Mills, 9; her sister, Dorothea, 10; Quinton Lewis, 8, and Margaret Thomas, 5. Six other children were carried to safety.

At Buffalo, N. Y., truck driver Richard Jackson wonders how he is going to tell his wife Mary that their two children perished in a fire in their apartment home.

Jackson was en route home when a flash fire killed the youngsters, Stephen, 4, and Cynthia, 14 months, and sent the 24-year-old mother to a hospital with critical burns. Jackson whispered to a nun at Mercy Hospital: "She doesn't know it yet."

At St. Louis, Mo., a tenement fire killed 25-year-old Shirley Green and seriously burned her four children, Richard, 7, Michael, 5, Deborah, 3, and a baby about 11 months old. All are Negroes.

Rights Advocates Differ On Result Of Senate Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Advocates of broad new civil rights legislation differed today over whether they had lost ground to Southern foes in a marathon Senate session now well past the 100-hour mark.

Sen. E. L. Bartlett (D-Alaska) said they unquestionably had, but Sen. Gordon Allott (R-Colo.) disagreed and predicted they would reconcile their differences and force a halt to the filibuster of the Dixie forces.

In a separate interview, Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said flatly that the civil rights advocates cannot get the necessary two-thirds majority to shut off debate on the seven-point administration bill now before the Senate.

At midnight Friday the Senate had been in round-the-clock session for 108 hours since last Monday noon except for one 15-minute recess Wednesday morning. Previous records for nonstop sessions had long since fallen.

But Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said he planned to call for a halt late this afternoon and take a recess over Sunday, with the battle to be resumed Monday.

Elvis, Army Call It Quits At Fort Dix

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP)—Rock 'n' roll singer Elvis Presley was separated from the Army today to resume his million-dollar-plus a year show business career.

The 24-year-old former truck driver left his Army post with his manager, Col. Tom Parker, in a chauffeur-driven limousine at 9:15 a.m.

Parker said he was going to New York but Presley declined to give his destination. He had said earlier he planned to spend several weeks in Memphis, Tenn., his home town.

Half a dozen teen-age girls and a score of photographers and newsmen were on hand to witness Presley's departure.

After his final orientation lecture, he drew his last government pay of $109.54.

"Don't forget my commission," yelled Parker.

Presley handed him the full amount.

Still wearing his Army uniform, Presley walked to the waiting car surrounded by MPs. The girls tried to mob him and several soldiers asked for autographs.

Some of the soldiers who had served with Presley in Germany yelled: "Go get 'em, Elvis."

Presley looked glum and photographers asked him to smile. He told newsmen that he would be in the Army's inactive reserve and subject to call during the next six years. He said he was not writing a book, as previously reported.

Parker has said Presley has television and movie guarantees totaling more than $850,000 for the remainder of the year.

But Presley could earn much more from record royalties, percentages from movie receipts, personal appearances and other interests. Last year he grossed $1,600,000 — while serving as a soldier in Germany.

Arrests

Morris College were jailed when they sat down at lunch counters in three Sumter stores. They were released on $100 bond each.

48 Negroes Arrested

At Florence, 48 young Negroes were arrested when they returned for a second lunch counter demonstration at a variety store in less than 30 minutes. They were jailed briefly, then let out on $100 bond each.

State charges carrying possible penalties of nearly a year in jail and $1,000 fine were brought against 80 college students accused of participating in and helping direct last Saturday's lunch counter sit-in demonstrations in Nashville, Tenn. Most of them are Negroes and all except two have been fined $50 apiece on city charges of disorderly conduct. The fines are on appeal and the students are free under bond.

Exceptions were the Rev. James Morris Lawson Jr., who was dismissed by the Vanderbilt University divinity school, and a Tennessee A&I student against whom charges were dismissed without explanation.

Hunter Breaks Scoring Record As Quakers Roll 105-64

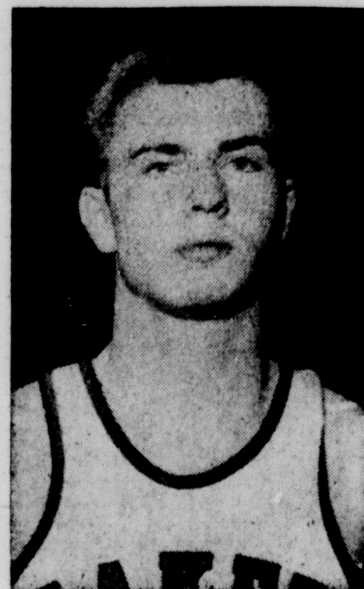

Tallies 43 Points In Champion Rout

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Dave Hunter broke the Salem single game scoring record by pouring through 43 points as the Quakers chalked up an overwhelming 105-64 tournament victory over Champion Friday night in the Class AA Sectional at Youngstown South Field House.

By winning, the Quakers moved into the finals tonight at 8:45 against Warren, 46-43 conquerors of Howland Friday night.

The well-drilled and superbly conditioned Quakers outran and outshot the Champion quintet which gave everything it had but simply wasn't in a class with Salem last night.

Dave Hunter

Champion Coach Ray Sweeney was full of praise for the Quakers after the game saying, "I don't know of any team that can beat them. My boys never gave up but Salem was just too fast and shot too well."

CHAMPION CLOSED its season with a 10-10 record. It had eliminated Leavittsburg 44-31 in the first round of the tournament. Salem which now has won 17 games and lost two, had drawn an opening round bye in the tournament.

Salem Coach John Cabas hinted on several occasions during the regular season that fans could expect to see a rejuvenated Quaker team by tournament time. Salem knew it was playing for keeps last night and it pulled out all stops.

With his performance last night Hunter showed why he is considered in many quarters to be the finest high school cager in the state. His record-shattering 43 points came on 15 field goals and a perfect 13 for 13 from the foul line.

THE OLD RECORD of 37 points was set by Bob Payer against Steubenville in the final game of the 1947-48 season. Salem won that game 58-34.

Earlier this season against Youngstown South, Hunter came within three points of Payer's record although he sat out the last 6:31 of the game.

Last night Hunter left the game with 6:26 remaining but his new record of 43 points was already in the book.

He tied the old standard before the third period was half over. Hunter set the new mark with 2:28 remaining in the third frame. Both the time-breaking and record-breaking goals came on fast breaks with Hunter scoring from under the hoop.

THE SENIOR shooting phenom got plenty of help from his teammates, especially Dan Krichbaum, in setting the record, but at no time during the game was there a concentrated effort to "feed" the southpaw.

On numerous occasions Hunter found his teammates open and hit them with sharp passes for easy baskets. The 23 shots he attempted from the field were only seven more than his average for 19 games.

The 5-11 co-captain picked up a majority of his goals on the end of a fast break which the Quakers used frequently and effectively. However, he hit from all angles on the floor. His crowd-pleasing driving underhand swing shot seemed to crawl its way up to the hoop.

One of his patented shots found its mark while the shooter was staggering forward on his knees.

A BREAKDOWN of Hunter's record-breaking performance shows that he tallied 15 points in each of the first two periods, 11 in the third and two in the 1:34 of the final quarter that he played. He didn't miss a one of 13 free throw attempts.

Hunter was easily the main attraction last night, but he was not a one man team. Don Davidson with 14 points was runner-up in that department, but more important, the 6-4½ junior center pulled down 19 rebounds in the three quarters he played.

Krichbaum and Jim Lehwald each had 12 points. Both were standouts on Salem's pressing defense which obviously bothered the Champion cagers. Time and again this combination stole the ball and put the Quakers on the attack. Their ball handling also brought cheers from the crowd.

FORWARD RICK Theiss showed some early signs of nervousness

but the 6-5 senior came on to pull down seven rebounds and display a willingness to mix it up under the backboards. He took only three shots from the field, hitting on one of them.

Salem opened the fourth quarter with a lineup of Hunter, Krichbaum, Fred Harshman, Jim Solmen and Ed Yates. Junior Tod Couchie and sophomore Bob Eskay relieved Salem's two all-state guard candidates before the period was two minutes old.

Coach Cabas got his entire 12 man squad into action and each scored at least one point.

CHAMPION'S leading scorer was Don Yartz who collected 18 points. The junior didn't enter the game until the second half but he jumped in nine fields, seven of them coming in a fine fourth quarter shooting exhibition.

As a team, Salem hit on 41 of 87 shots from the field for a sizzling 47.1 per cent. Champion connected on 27 of 69 attempts for a 39.1 mark.

From the foul line Salem was 23 for 32 while Champion hit on only 10 of 21.

At the outset of the game, Champion's Gary Gresham and ray Knapp, both of whom stand well over six feet tall, were beating the Quakers to the rebounds.

Underdog Champion hauled down eight of the first nine rebounds in the tilt and jumped off to a 10-3 lead in the first 2:36 of the game. Suddenly the Quakers started taking the ball away from their opponents in back court. In a furious 1:15 the Quakers battled their way into the lead for the first time, 11-10. After that they were never headed.

SALEM MOVED on top 29-15 by the end of the first period. It was 53-28 by intermission and 81-46 after three quarters.

Salem's 100th point came on a foul shot by Eskay with just :04 remaining in the game, two seconds later Eskay jumped in a fielder and was fouled in the attempt. He successfully converted the foul making the score 103-64. Sophomore Ted Thorne got his hands on the ball and fired it through the hoop again just as the final buzzer sounded.

The Quaker second-stringers had scored six points in the last four seconds of the game.

The 105 points was one shy of the Salem record of 106 set at home last year against Wellsville. The Quakers had scored 100 points in their last regular season game against Girard.

Although no such records are kept, members of the Youngstown press covering the game last night feel that the 106 points may be an all time Field House record. Salem tallied 98 points there in the Sectional finals against Youngstown East last year.

TONIGHT AGAINST Warren, the Quakers will be facing a team which they beat 65-59 in a regular season game played in Salem. Harding won seven games and lost 11 during the regular season. Besides its win over Howland last night, the Panthers own a 47-46 tournament win over Girard.

Warren was without Paul Warfield when it met Salem earlier in the season. The 6-0 senior was out with a sprained ankle. The speedster hasn't been doing much scoring, but he is an outstanding defensive performer.

The Warren team is better known for its defensive ability than for its scoring punch.

The Salem-Warren tilt tonight will be the second of a two-game card. Newton Falls and Niles will get together in the opening attraction at 7:30. The two winners will advance to Sectional play at South Field House next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Tournament Director Dave Williams reported that 2,200 persons paid their way into the Field House for the two games last night. This was more than twice the size of the largest crowd in four previous nights of tournament play at South.

Officials for the game were John Russ and Ralph Robinette.

Akron to Play Wittenberg

Contest to Decide Conference Title

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Wittenberg and Akron, the two Ohio Conference teams with the best defensive records, square off tonight in the championship game of the conference cage tourney.

Wittenberg's Tigers, who topped the conference final standings with a 12-0 record compared with Akron's third-place 8-3, defeated the Zips 45-40 in the season opener at Akron and beat them 64-47 two weeks ago in Springfield.

Friday night Wittenberg registered its 18th consecutive triumph against Ohio Conference opposition by winning a tournament semifinal from Marietta, 71-57. Akron (17-7) won the Northern Division semifinal by downing Wooster, 89-71.

Wooster's Scots (14-9), fifth-placers in the regular conference play, meet Marietta's Pioneers (9-11) in a consolation game preceding tonight's championship contest.

Bert Price and Tony Vedova, got 18 each to lead Wittenberg to its 15th straight victory. The Tigers hit on half their field goal triad—34 of 68. During the first half, which ended with Wittenberg leading by only 35-32, Marietta clicked on 55 per cent of its field goal attempts, but in the second half the Pioneers missed four of five.

The Pioneers were held scoreless for the first six minutes after intermission, while Wittenberg made nine points. The gap widened to 52-36 with 10 minutes left.

Akron shot off to a 23-9 lead in the first 10 minutes and was ahead 39-26 at the half. The Zips built up a 62-40 edge midway in the second half, then used its reserves the rest of the way.

Orioles' Ace Having Trouble With Teeth

By The Associated Press

Baltimore, a team that will go just as far as its pitching goes, is fortunate the opening of the American League season is more than a month away.

The Orioles' ace righthander, Milt Pappas, is having trouble with six teeth and may have to leave the Miami training camp to return to Baltimore for dental work.

The Orioles, who finished sixth last season, got the news on Pappas Friday.

But there was no word from out fielder Gene Woodling, the club's only holdout—and more important, Baltimore's only .300 hitter.

Pappas, who had a 15-9 record last year, has two impacted teeth and four other molars that should be extracted. Only 20, Pappas shared Baltimore pitching honors with the veteran Hoyt Wilhelm last year, topped the staff in complete games with 15 and worked in 33 over-all while compiling a 3.27 earned run average.

Woodling hit .300 on the nose and led the club in runs batted with 77. He also had 14 home runs.

The New York Yankees signed relief pitcher Ryne Duren, but were still missing two big ones in Mickey Mantle and Tony Kubek.

Washington's Pedro Ramos arrived in Orlando, Fla., but said he might turn around and go back to Cuba if the Senators insist on cutting his 1959 estimated salary of $16,000. Ramos was 13-19 last year.

Frenchman Near Figure Skating Title

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—A soldier of France named Alain Giletti stood today at the gateway to skating glory.

Only a badly fumbled performance tonight could prevent Giletti from taking home to Paris the first world figure skating championship ever won by a Frenchman.

Seventeen contestants will offer five-minute free skating performances tonight in the 1960 finals. But Giletti built up such a lead in two days of compulsory figure competition that chief scramble appeared to be for second place.

Donald Jackson of Oshawa, Canada, co-favored with Giletti at the start of the five-day meet, now faces a challenge from Alain Giletti of Paris for second position. Entering the finals, Giletti had 709.9 points, Jackson 676.9, Calmat 673.1.

Opportunity finally beckons for the 21-year-old Giletti after 14 years of skating. Eight times he has been champion of France; four times champion of Europe. But in world skating there has always been a Dick Button, Hayes Allen Jenkins or David Jenkins to win for the United States.

David Jenkins retired recently after being world king for three years.

California Rips Stanford 51-42

Duke, Wake Forest Will Meet Tonight

By The Associated Press

The prestige of the NCAA basketball tourney that decides the national collegiate champion may suffer a damaging blow if the Big Ten goes through with its motion to end postseason competition in all sports.

The Big Ten annually is in the fore of basketball competition. If it dropped out of the postseason tourney, some folks probably would point the finger and say the NCAA winner could hardly claim the national championship with such a major conference out.

No one in authority was talking about such a prospect. Walter Byers, executive secretary of the NCAA, said "I have no comment until we receive some official communication from the Big Ten on the matter."

There is no worry about this year's tournament which opens next week. Ohio State, this year's Big Ten champion, is expected to be a strong contender to oust California's Golden Bears from the title.

California, beaten only once this year and third ranked nationally behind Cincinnati and Ohio State, warmed up for its NCAA competition by downing Stanford 51-42 Friday night.

The NCAA picture will be more in focus after tonight's action. Duke and Wake Forest battle for the Atlantic Coast Conference title and the right to enter the NCAA. Duke nipped North Carolina 71-69 and Wake Forest jolted NC State 71-66 in the semifinal games Friday night at Raleigh.

In the NCAA small college tourney 14 teams fell by the wayside in the various regional eliminations. Evansville, the defending champs, and St. Michaels (Vt.), a former national runner-up, are in front of the pack. They reached the quarter-finals by beating St. Anselms (NH) 99-95 and Wabash 89-68, respectively.

Aparicio Aims At 5th Stolen Base Title

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Luis Aparicio hung up a high target for himself with 56 stolen bases in 1959. The four-time American League base stealing champ hopes to do even better while making it five straight.

"It may be tough beating that mark," Aparicio said as he awaited his turn at the batting cage in the training camp of the Chicago White Sox. "The pitchers will be extra careful not to give me that good jump and the catcher will be bearing down even more. But I am going to be trying."

It has been a busy winter for Aparicio. In addition to his dual job as co-owner and shortstop for the Rapiros club in his native Venezuela, he has been trying to explain why the White Sox lost the World Series to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"They ask me why we lost. Was I nervous? How did the ball (Carl) Furillo hit get past me? But most of all they ask me how (John) Roseboro threw me out."

"What can you say? He just threw me out, that is all."

"But you really steal bases on the pitchers, not the catchers. It all depends on how much of a jump they let you get."

At 25, little Luis already is firm. entrenched as the best shortstop in the American League. Although he is only 5 feet 8 and weighs but 155, he has a good range in the field and can hit for distance on occasion. Last year he hit six home runs as compared with a total of eight in his first three years with the Sox.

They say the system of a walk, sacrifice, stolen base and a long fly is old-fashioned baseball. Not the way the "gogo White Sox" do it. And Aparicio is "Mr. Go Go" himself.

Michigan Leads In Big Ten Swim Meet

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Michigan, battling to stave off Indiana's strong challenge, will shoot for its third straight conference title tonight in the finals of the Big Ten swimming championship.

The Wolverines, who trailed the Hoosiers by six points after the opening day, roared back Friday, racking up 77 points to vault into a 93-77 lead over runner up Indiana.

OH, BROTHER — Talking over the fence at the start of spring training are Larry Sherry, right, the Los Angeles hero of last year's World Series, and his brother Norm, who could make it a brother battery for the Dodgers.

Palmer Ahead 2 Strokes In Golf Tourney

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—"That man is the greatest. He is a real sportsman."

That was Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla., talking about Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa. Goalby made the comments Friday after Palmer penalized himself one stroke on the third hole of the second round of the $15,000 Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament.

Despite the penalty, Palmer put together his second straight 1-der-par 71 and took a 2-stroke lead at the end of 36 holes.

The penalty incident developed when Palmer's ball landed on some leaves on the 6,700-yard Baton Rouge Country Club course. When he moved some of the leaves, he said, his ball moved. But none of the other players said they saw it.

Goalby, who played with Palmer, came in with a 71 Friday and was among the five tied for second at 144.

The others were the first-round leader, George Bayer of Glen-eagles, Ill.; Jay Hebert of Lafayette, La.; Jeff Blanton of San Diego, and Jack Doss of Minneapolis.

Cold weather plagued the tourney Friday. Ice on the greens delayed the start. The temperature was 29 when the early starters began. By nightfall it was in the high 50s.

Romano Giving Nixon Fight For Job

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—John Anthony (Honey) Romano, 25-year-old eater from Hoboken, N.J., has in three days of training camp activity made clear that Russ Nixon is in a battle for the job of firststring catcher on the Cleveland Indians.

Romano, acquired in the seven player trade with the Chicago White Sox Dec. 6, has impressed Manager Joe Gordon as a hard-working and spirited player.

With Chicago last season he showed some powerful stick work the Indians could put to good use in the lower half of their batting order. He played in 53 games and batted .294 with five homers.

After the December trade, the White Sox statistician put out figures purporting to show Romano couldn't hit righthand pitching. Romano calls this "a lot of bunk" and said Chicago used him only against left-handers.

"Who can hit a righthander if he only sees one once a month?" he asked.

Asked how he stacked up the pennant chances of his present teammates with those of his former teammates of the 1959 pennant club, Romano said:

"Let's put it this way: I'd rather be with this club."

Curtain to Fall on Big Ten Faculty Campaign

The curtain falls on the Big Ten basketball campaign today with only third place and the individual scoring title at stake.

Ohio State (12-1) has long since clinched the championship and Indiana (10-3) is assured of second place.

Minnesota (8-5) and Northwestern (8-5) are hoping to finish third and Illinois (7-6) would like to see both lose in order to grab itself a share of third place.

The individual scoring race involves sophomores Terry Dischinger of Purdue and Jerry Lucas of Ohio State. Dischinger leads with 352 points but Lucas has an outside chance with his 339 points.

Illinois will be at Northwestern in a regionally televised matinee. Indiana plays at Michigan State tonight, Michigan will be at Iowa, Ohio State at Minnesota and Purdue at Wisconsin.

Rookie pitcher Al Pehanik is the tallest player on the Detroit Tigers' roster at 6-feet-3/4 inches.

Big Ten Faculty Group Votes To Ban Post-Season Sports

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 64-year-old Western Conference was embroiled in a free-for-all family fight today—a scrap which may end with the powerful loop confining all sports to its own back yard.

Rebellious athletic directors set off the explosion Friday.

Shorn of Pasadena's pomp, pageantry and prestige — plus a $300,000 annual payoff—by faculty votes which Friday killed the 14-year-old Rose Bowl pact, the sports chiefs struck back.

They came up with a startling resolution urging that postseason events in all sports be banned—not just in football. Faculty representatives immediately approved it.

The conference rules, on such major legislation, provide a 60-day "cooling-off" period before it becomes effective. Thus a new vote is practically assured at the May 18-21 session in East Lansing, Mich. after the faculty men get new instructions from their universities.

Canton McKinley Swimmers Set 3 Records In Ohio Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Canton McKinley swimmers set three records Friday as they took five first places in preliminary events of the 33rd annual Ohio high school swimming and diving championships at Ohio State University's natatorium.

The defending champions also placed in three of the nine other events.

Richard Frederick of Canton set a new mark as he took first in the 50-yard freestyle in 23 seconds flat. The old mark of :23.1 was set by Oldham of Cincinnati St. Xavier in 1957.

Canton's Marty Mull splashed to a 50.9 victory in the 100-yard freestyle event, bettering the :51.3 mark of Canton's Jack Foster in 1958.

Mull, holder of a national record in the 200-yard individual medley, topped the same event here in 2:10.4.

The defending champs also eclipsed their own 1956 record of 1:35.3 in the 200-yard freestyle relay, taking it in 1:35.2.

There were no diving events Friday.

Mantle Levels Barrage at Yank Bosses

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A miffed Mickey Mantle, pride injured and pocketbook threatened, has bombed back at his New York Yankee bosses in his holdout war.

Mantle had a hard time relaxing at his home Friday night as he assured a reporter that "I'm not bluffing."

Mantle apparently stiffened his stand against a $15,000 cut in his $75,000 yearly salary as Yankee General Manager George Weiss adopted a toughened policy against Mantle and other Yankee holdouts.

Mantle said he would remain in Dallas and infielder Tony Kubek stayed at his Milwaukee home. Andy Carey, infielder, is in St. Petersburg, Fla., but staying away from the Yankee training quarters.

"This is the year Mantle must learn the facts of life," Weiss snapped. He must learn he can't bulldoze us into meeting his terms. He must come in and talk everything over reasonably."

Mantle, shown the Weiss statement, exploded. "I don't know what he means by bulldozing, but I'll tell you this: I'm not trying to bulldoze anyone. I'm not trying to bluff them, either."

Mantle, who said earlier this week, "I don't even know if I mind being traded or not," said the reported salary cut was too much.

Northeast Digs Out of Snow

Nation's Weather Death Toll Hits 150

NEW YORK (AP) — A stricken Northeast struggled to dig out of the snow today as the great March storm headed out over the North Atlantic.

From Maine to Dixie residents worked to clear paths and rescue automobiles from under mountainous snow drifts.

Transportation returned slowly toward normal but slowups and delays were still reported.

In many areas, work was hampered by a cold wave that turned packed snow hard and chilled slush into unmanageable ice.

Across the nation, the weather death toll neared the 150 mark. For many states it was the worst winter storm in more than a decade.

New England reeled under the storm's most vicious blows Friday as the frigid fury howled seaward. Gusts of hurricane force whipped the region dumping up to two feet of snow and swirling it into drifts up to 11 feet.

Boston, battered by gales and choked with more than 15 inches of snow, was paralyzed and declared an emergency. So did other POLA RETURNS — Ending a 10-year retirement, famed "vamp" of the silent screen, Pola Negri, will soon be seen in a new movie. Called "The Mystery of the World," it concerns the destruction of the world by a mysterious atomic weapon.

Massachusetts cities and New Haven, Conn.

The Boston Weather Bureau called it the most crippling March storm on record.

By Friday night the snow had dwindled to flurries in New England and a faint backlash continued to drop snow on the eastern end of Long Island.

The South caught a bitter taste of winter too. The Carolinas had from four inches to a foot of snow. Atlanta got its worst winter buffeting in 24 years.

In Washington, a power failure caused by snow plunged capital restaurants into darkness, halted all elevators on the House side of the Capitol and stilled the bells that summon senators for quorum calls. Congressmen were led to their basement subway by flashlight.

The mother, Eileen, 34, and the seventh child, Madonna Jo, 6, got out of the house but were reported in critical condition at the hospital.

The husband and father was at work at the Colonial Bar, which he operates. Mrs. Dietrich and the children were in bed when the fire broke out.

The cause of the blaze was not determined.

POLICE CHIEF DIES — CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Elmer H. Merriman, 59, Cincinnati police chief since 1955, died in Berger Hospital here Friday after suffering a stroke Wednesday. He was a member of the force for 23 years.

Trial Report List Complimentary to Columbiana County

LISBON — Figures released by the administrative office of the Ohio State Supreme Court in its annual report, reveal that Columbiana County ranks eighth out of the 88 counties for the most jury trials conducted in 1959.

Of the seven rated higher those counties have from three to 15 judges compared to two Common Pleas judges in Columbiana County.

In addition, the report shows Columbiana County 12th in the state last year in the number of cognovit note and default judgments taken; 15th in the number of cases tried and 19th in the number of cases settled and dismissed.

Columbiana County was 19th in the state in number of cases filed last year, totaling 963, and at the close of 1959 ranked 15th in the state with 785 cases pending.

In comparison with adjoining counties of comparable size which also have two Common Pleas judges, Columbiana County ranked well, with 539 cases tried by the Court, 47 jury cases tried and 422 cases settled and dismissed.

Adjoining Jefferson County had 321 cases tried by the court, 11 jury cases tried and 576 cases settled or dismissed. Belmont County shows 376 cases tried by the court, 26 jury cases and 345 cases settled and dismissed.

Six Children Die As Blast Rips House — EVANSVILLE, Ind., (AP) — Six of the seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dietrich died Friday night in an explosion and fire that swept through their home on Evansville's Northwest Side.

Five brothers, Michael, 9, Gregory, 8, Dennis, 5, Timothy, 4, and Tommy, 3, were suffocated or burned to death in the house.

A fireman found their baby sister, Roxanne, 20 months, crawling on the floor in the burning house and passed her out through a window, but she died as she reached Deaconess Hospital.

The mother, Eileen, 34, and the seventh child, Madonna Jo, 6, got out of the house but were reported in critical condition at the hospital.

The husband and father was at work at the Colonial Bar, which he operates. Mrs. Dietrich and the children were in bed when the fire broke out.

The cause of the blaze was not determined.

Mrs. Pearl Carle was hostess when members of the Pedro Club enjoyed a luncheon Tuesday.
